

Exhibit C

View 1 reply

-

Janet Horvath

Heartening and hope justice will prevail in this case as well as changes needed industry-wide.

4w

Like

Reply

11
-

Classical Confidential · Follow

Gary Ginstling was, however, in charge of the Indianapolis Symphony, and knowingly protected and enabled a predator during his time there. Let's have Jestin do a full investigation of that as well. #TIMESUP

4w

Like

Reply

Edited

39

View all 10 replies

Jeff Clary

I used to have a lot of respect for this ensemble, but after reading this story and hearing about the complete lack of accountability, it's hard to go back and listen to them.

4w

Like

Reply

6

Mary Clark

"Nothing is more important than the culture of our orchestra and the safety of our musicians and staff"... nothing except money, saving face, keeping the NDAs intact, hiding past misconduct, and keeping the details out of the press and the courts.

1w

Like

Reply

View 1 reply

Harmony Schneider

Release Cara from her NDA, apologize, offer to hire her AND Amanda back! Come on, these aren't difficult decisions. Do the right thing. This wishy washy statement is insulting.

18h

Like

Reply

Seiji Shiraishi

"While not yet a year into my tenure as President and CEO..." i.e., "none of this happened under my watch and I need to point that out," is what I took away the most from this statement. Also, he didn't mention that he joined the organization in Novemb... See more

4w

Like

Reply

34

View all 3 replies

Jack Humes

Isn't this a little late? When you offer this only after being outed it seems disingenuous. If you are interested in the truth and improving "culture" terminate the nondisclosure agreement and shine a bright light on it.

4w

Like

Reply

18

Lina Gonzalez-Granados · Follow

Thank you Gary for taking the initial steps to help this necessary change.

4w

Like

Reply

5

View all 3 replies

James Wit

The men involved should also be blacklisted from all musical performances, festivals, orchestras, and schools.

3w

Like

Reply

7

View 1 reply

Russell Johns

Not nearly enough, several decades too late.

4w

Like

Reply

25

View all 2 replies

Christina Boyer

This is a good first step. Now go ahead and release Cara from the NDA while we await the results of the investigation.

4w

Like

Reply

44

Katherine Needleman · Follow

A nice start. Next, announce that you have released Cara Kizer from her NDA.

4w

Like

Reply

138

View 1 reply

Janice Landrum

Not enough , but I am glad they are doing SOMETHING , at last, too late.

4w

Like

Reply

Edited

8

Don Sipe

The women of the Philharmonic should refuse to play any service until these two criminals are fired. Bring the institution to a complete halt now. No more half measures, no more excuses for anyone. End this now.

4w

Like

Reply

Edited

14

View all 2 replies

120+

Kelly Riordan

Understanding that this article was (brilliantly) published on Friday, NYP had six days to craft this statement. There is no excuse for the oversight of not mentioning Cara or Amanda.

Also of note: reviewing audition and tenure procedures is a step. I... See more

4wLikeReply69

View 1 reply

Kim A. Rutherford

Actions speak louder than your forced words -- free Cara from the NDA. The need for you to mention your own tenure with the NY Phil is incredibly self-serving.

No future subscriptions from us until those two are gone for good -- and you've stepped down.

4wLikeReplyEdited11

Stephanie Streseman Wilkinson

Release Cara from her NDA.

2wLikeReply

Jennifer Presar

Mr. Ginstling, you should also encourage your peer colleagues of the top orchestras to take similar steps.

4wLikeReply

Stephanie Streseman Wilkinson

Release any other victims you're covering up from their NDAs, too.

2wLikeReply

Lawrence Franko

I totally agree that ALL sexual abuse and physical assault/drugging should be stopped and prosecuted where appropriate. And there should be 'someone to talk to.' I am inclined to put a lot of the blame in this story on the Union. The Union could offer... See more

4wLikeReplyEdited

View all 12 replies

Astrid Zenon Jenkins

Y'all have known about this for a long time and are only responding now that the story got big. First change is a complete turn over in leadership.

2wLikeReplyEdited

Karen Fardal

Too little too late, good luck fixing this when the entire culture is so enmired in patriarchal and hierarchical structures that elevate men to untouchable status and punish anyone who speaks up and out. It's not just here, it's everywhere. How did Jam... See more

4wLikeReplyEdited37

View all 13 replies

Heidi Chisholm

Time is up NYPhil! You've done the wrong thing for too many years. All those that supported the criminals in WW and brass section need to go too. There are plenty of decent humans out there that can play. Get rid of the rot. That photo of those thr... See more

3wLikeReply7

Anthony Barrington

They're still not fired LOL what a joke

4wLikeReply32

View all 5 replies

Jessica MacLean Shekleton

I do hope they're suspended without pay.

3wLikeReply

M Mike Brown

Release Cara Kizer from her NDA. If anyone should be getting back pay it's her. And fire those two rapists before they drag the reputation of your orchestra further into mud. Despicable.

3wLikeReply2

Adrian Holton

How about transparency? Release Cara from her NDA so she has a choice to speak freely.

4wLikeReply18

Celeste Alexandria Morales

This is just too sad

4wLikeReply

View all 3 replies

Angie M Rivera · Follow

Relieve Cara from her NDA

4wLikeReply3

 Dmitry Kustanovich
Yes yes yes

4w Like Reply

 Alejandra Urrutia
Wonderful, important and necessary.

4w Like Reply

 Kevin Scully
What's happening the weekend of May 8th? Still an oboe concerto on the events calendar. Edit: They replaced it on the program.

4w Like Reply Edited

4

View all 4 replies

 Rae Rae Messenger
I painted this tonight. It's how I feel about being a woman brass player.

4w Like Reply

3

 Mariane Patenaude
Malena Lorenson!

4w Like Reply

 Carolyn Marie
Release the poor woman from her NDA, and MAYBE you can save face

3w Like Reply

 Luke Hollis
It's nice to see the NYP cares about having a safe work environment for women after getting outed following every effort to cover it up. What a sad, shameful situation.

4w Like Reply

33

View all 3 replies

 Eliza Rodriguez
Release Cara from her NDA.

4w Like Reply 11

 Veronica AReader
Drop the NDA. Let Cara speak.

4w Like Reply 17

View all 3 replies

Most relevant is selected, so some comments may have been filtered out.